        I just want to say I'm truly sorry. I realize now that I was being too possessive and didn't give you the space you deserved. That was never my intention, but I see how my actions might have made you feel pressured or overwhelmed. You are one of the sweetest people I know, and the last thing I ever wanted was to upset you. I completely respect your feelings and your decision to distance yourself.
I just hope you know that I regret my behavior and that I've learned from this. I won't try to force you to forgive me or talk to me again—I just wanted to say sorry from my heart. No matter what, I wish you happiness and peace, always.<div
